I have started experimenting with local connoisseur cheese outlets like Murray's and Venissimo and I can tell you the results are great.

Please join me on our rooftop ocean-view deck as we watch the sunset, sip our wine, and taste our cheese. Date to be determined by the weather, but it will be late summer or early fall when I can also offer veggies from my garden. If you cannot make the date, I will bring a basket of cheeses and your favorite beverage to you instead.

110 $1,500 Guided Tour of Lake Atitlan, Guatemala by the local Rotary Club

Donated by Mike Rosen

5 available.

Background. The Rotary Club of Lake Atitlan Guatemala has a history of arranging short visits around the lake for fellow Rotarians visiting from the US. I'm Mike Rosen, UUSFD member and the current President of the Club. Typical visits include both tourist and service-related interests and a deep insider perspective into a land of magical beauty and mythical history. I will work with the club to make this available to a limited number of winning bidders (no fewer than 2, no more than 5).

A typical itinerary is outlined below. Expect something similar to this. We would need to agree upon either the 2nd week of Nov or 2nd week of Feb. Participants are responsible for getting into and out of GUA. We'll take it from there. The tour includes all ground, lake transportation, all lodging, activities and breakfast daily.

The Tropical Travel Agency that contracts for drivers, hotel rooms and related services is owned by a club member and receives payment for his work. Additionally, the club and UUFSD receive a donation from these trips.

Overview. We'll spend one night in Antigua, and six nights at two villages on Lake Atitlan. Activities include guided walking tours of historical sites, a hike to view and photograph the wild Quetzales that live outside of Santiago. We'll also be visiting a few NGOs and related project visits. Our lodging will be clean and safe but simple. Our hosts will be myself and my Rotarian friends and colleagues, many of whom have lived there for decades.
